We solve your company’s vexing people problems

The bottom line of any organization is directly influenced by its emotional climate. An organization is a dynamic entity with all of its people impacting its structure, its functioning, and ultimately, its profitability.

Are your people working together? Are they cohesively committed to the company’s goals and objectives, giving their highest levels of energy, commitment, and creativity?

Or, are they unhappy, angry, or conflicted resulting in excessive absenteeism and detachment from company goals? Are unresolved conflicts and poor communications hampering the success of your company?

LISTENING Through in-depth, confidential interviews and a range of other tools and methods, we learn about your company, its goals, and what the obstacles are. We dig deep to determine the root causes before we develop solutions.

SETTING GOALS Working with you, we develop the goals and desired results and initiate the solution process.

PRODUCING CHANGE Our individually tailored solutions target those areas that produce change. This usually involves individuals, groups, and teams. Implementing the desired change while working directly with you is one of our unique strengths.

SUSTAINING RESULTS Once the goals have been achieved, we maintain a dialog with you to solidify the changes in your company. If new challenges arise we remain available.

CONTACT US Contact us to learn more about how Stanislaw Consulting can help your organization function better and become more productive. We are looking forward to talking with you and answering your questions.